A Steel Reinforced, Locked Door

This steel door is locked.

You may not pass unless you know otherwise.

There are two ways to pass this door:

1. Possess the appropriate key (item number:).
2. You may hit the door with a CR of 10 or greater. If you choose to do so, you must write "Broken" on the sign indicating that the door is locked. Anyone may now freely pass into the room since the door has been broken down. Further, elementals that participate in breaking the door down must write their elemental type on the back of sheet since this action leaves elemental residue on the door. Anyone possessing a Tricorder with "Detect Elemental Residue" functionality may look under the sheet to learn the type(s) of elementals that participated in breaking the door down.

Please do not remove this until December 2nd, 2012.
